

BENJAMIN B

THE ESCAPE ARTIST

*(the whole song is based on the same riff:
e a a d d e e)*

I once saw Houdini
late at night, Discovery.
When they tried to tie him down,
he escaped and then was free

Well I copy this behavior
every way I can.
If you come to close to me
I'll be halfway to Japan.

I run away.

I keep doing this
although I'm trying every cure:
Threw my car keys in a dustbin,
nailed my shoes down to the floor.

But that won't keep me here
a walk on bare feet will do fine.
Within a split I'll disappear leaving all of you behind.

I run away.

Well I just kept on going,
now I'm looking back and see;
that there's no one left to leave,
so I'll run away from me:

Goodbye to everyone
and goodbye to myself.
The story goes,
I'll never be the wiser!

I run away.

Music & words: F. E. Scholtens